

SAFETY MANAGER'S WORKSHOP

Aviation Industry Association in collaboration with CAA

Empowering you as a Safety Manager

Tuesday 16th of September - 0900 – 1645 hours
Tākina Wellington Convention and Exhibition Centre

Participants: Safety Managers Part 135, 137, 141, 145. Prime Persons Part 102

SCOPE

An Interactive and practical workshop designed to empower Safety Managers. This session goes beyond compliance; it's about building confidence and capability to influence real safety outcomes.

OUTCOMES

As a Safety Manager, you will gain confidence in facilitating safety enhancement within your organisation. By the end of this workshop, you'll walk away with:

- Greater confidence in your role as a facilitator of safety culture
- Proven methods to share and embed safety learnings across your team
- New ideas, real-life examples, and connections to support your ongoing development as a Safety Manager

WHAT YOU WILL LEARN

How to effectively share relevant safety information with your team and your peers to influence positive safety outcomes. A unique opportunity to learn from experienced industry participants, key CAA staff and business leaders

- How to communicate safety messages effectively to your team and peers
- Practical strategies to engage your business in meaningful safety conversations
- Tools to drive positive safety culture and enhance operational safety

You'll also benefit from the insights and experience of industry leaders, CAA representatives, and peers who understand the unique challenges of your role.

FACILITATOR: Samantha McBride

Samantha is a Health, Wellness, and Mental Fitness Coach on a mission to break down barriers and grow scalable groups of motivated men to build better health, mindset, and connection - together. With an Honours degree in Human Physiology, a UK Territorial Army Commission, and nearly 30 years of life and business experience, Sam returned to her passion: helping people improve their health.

She co-owns Airspread South, a Part 137 topdressing business in Northern Southland, and serves as its Health and Safety Manager - giving her real-world insight into the challenges facing rural men and business. She's especially passionate about addressing stress, policy pressures, and mental fitness in male-dominated industries.

Currently, she's working on a PhD proposal for Otago University exploring the impact of stress mindset interventions for rural Kiwi men, and believes in the power of peer support, a growth mindset, and practical tools to drive lasting change.

Aviation
INDUSTRY
ASSOCIATION

CIVIL AVIATION AUTHORITY
OF NEW ZEALAND

Book here: aianz.org.nz/workshop-safety-managers-250916

SAFETY MANAGER'S WORKSHOP

Aviation Industry Association in collaboration with CAA

Empowering you as a Safety Manager

Tuesday 16th of September - 0900 – 1645 hours
Tākina Wellington Convention and Exhibition Centre

Participants: Safety Managers Part 135, 137, 141, 145. Prime Persons Part 102

TOPICS

- Driving safety enhancement - Empowering you as a Safety Manager
- Building trust and respect as a Safety Manager - Shared learnings from experienced safety managers
- Managing the interface between maintenance and operations
 - Duplicate inspections – the last line of defence
 - What does good process look like
 - Shared learnings from past incidents
- Operating and effective - What could this look like from a Safety Manager perspective
- From Compliance to Culture - The Rise of Psychosocial Risk in Safety Management
- Focussing on what matters - Francois Barton (CE of the Business Leaders' Health and Safety Forum)
- Incident Review Meeting - Root causes in recent accidents/incidents:
 - Kent Weir (Super Air Chief Pilot)
 - Davin Mudford (Heli A1 Chief Pilot)
 - Mark Tocker (Ravensdown Aeroworks Chief Pilot)
 - Simon Moar (Marlborough Helicopters Chief Pilot)

Pricing: Workshop Only

Pricing: Workshop - one day only

AIANZ Member $595 + GST

Non-Member $695 + GST

Pricing: Conference + Workshop

If attending AIANZ Conference on Monday 15 September:

AIANZ Member $195 + GST (+ Conference $495 EB* / $550 + GST)

Non-Member $295 + GST (+ Conference $695 EB* / $745 + GST)

Earlybird pricing available until 31 July 2025*

Book here: aianz.org.nz/workshop-safety-managers-250916

